Ready to Negotiate, Through Li Hung Chang for Restoration of Peaceful Relations.

CHINA MUST MEET CERTAIN CONDITIONS.

A Sufficient Body of the Relief Force Must be Permitted to Enter Pekin, Unmylented, to Escort the Foreign Ministers and Residents Enck to Tien Taln.

Washington, Aug. 13 .- The department of state has made public the reply of the United States government to Minister Wu's communication, delivered Sunday morning, notifying the department of the appointment of Earl Ll Hung Chang as envoy plentpotentlary to negotiate with the powers. This reply was sent to Minister Wu at five o'clock Sunday afterpoon and is as follows:

"Touching the imperbal edlet of August 8th, appointing Ll Hung Chang of the Philippines, At night there was envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations, on the part of China, with the powers, and the request for a cessation of hostilities, pending negotiations, presented to Mr. Adee by Min-Ister Wu on the 12th of August, 1900.

"The government of the United States learned with sutlsfaction of the appointment of Earl Li Illing as envoy plenlpotentiary to conduct negotiations with the powers und will, on its part, enter upon such negotiations with a desire to continue the friendly relations so long existing between the two countries.

A Self-Evident Proposition. "It is evident that there can be no general negotiation between China and the powers so long as the ministers of the powers and the persons under their protection remain In their present position of restraint and danger, and that the powers ean not cense their efforts for the delivery of those representatives to which they are constrained by the highest consideration of national honor, except nuder an arrangement adequate to accomplish a peaceable deliverance.

A Condition Precedent. "We are ready to enter Into an agreement between the powers and the Chinese government for a cessation of hostile demonstrations on condltion that a sufficient body of the forces composing the relief expedition shall be permitted to enter Pekin unmolested and to escort the foreign ministers and residents back to Tien Tsin, this mavement being provided for and secured by such arrangements and dispositions of troops as shall be considered satisfactory by the generals commanding the forces composing the relief expedition.

THREE DAYS AT YANG TSUN.

The Allies Belleveil to linve Resumed the Advance to Pekin.

London, Aug. 13 .- As the allies were to rest three days at Yang Tsun, it is supposed that a further advance was begun August 10, but no word haz come through from Yang Tsun since August 8, on which date the Jupanese commander, in a message to Tokio, said 20,000 Chinese were confronting the ullies. The dapanese losses at Peit-Sang. August 6, were 300 kllfed and wounded. The Chinese left 200 dead on the field.

The object of Chinese diplomaey, as appears from the great efforts being made in London and at the continental capitals, is to Induce the powers to suspend the march of the relief expedition; but it has been without suecess in the case of any government. An' explanation as to why some of the l'ekin cipher messages are dated Tsi Nau Is made by the Great Northern Telegraph Co., which points out that It has a regular courier service between Pekln and Tsi Nan, and that the wires are working from the latter place.

Denver, Col., Aug. 13 .- Nebraska, Knnsas, Iowa, the Dakotas, Colorado, Wyoming, L'tuh, Oregon and other western states are represented at the reunion of veteruns of the Philippine campaign which opened in this elty, and will continue for three days. Two years ago these soldiers were wading the Rio Cingnlon river, in the orient, walst deep, carrying the old flag and facing a storm of lead from ten miles of Spanish lutrenchments before Munila. They will never forget the oecnsion, and the reunion has been called for the purpose of keeping comrades shoulder to shoulder and effecting an organization whereby their deeds may be preserved in history. The idea originated with Gen. Irving liale, and to his efforts is due the success of this first numual reunion. Several hundred badges were Issued to the delegations as they arrived during the forenoon. A meetlng was held in the afternoon at which steps were taken for the orgunization of the Society of the Army a public meeting. The feature of Thesday's exercises will be a parade in which the local members of the Grand Army of the Republic will have the position of honor. FOR AUGUST.

Sell the Goods! Let the people have them at any sacrifice. Cut the prices; halve them If necessary, but by all means sell the goods. The purchaser saves every cent we loose and we must close out all of our Summer Clothing, Summer Dress Goods, Ladles Slippers, Etc., as we need the room for our Fali Stock which has already begun to arrive.

Therefore Sell the Goods! Sell the Goods!!

Where price may be the barrier to a sale it is stricken down; Bargains in goods that are now seasonable; the very things you want in hot weather; the very things that we don't want for our fall trade. That's why there is but one plank in this platform, viz: SELL THE GOODS! It has been a successful season for us. What is left of our enormous spring and summer stock goes now at almost any old price, just so It GOES. We are going to stick to this one plank of our platform if all of the other platforms in America goes down in defeat. The people are all vitally interested in this platform of ours and we are certain of their support. They will agree with us to SELL THE GOODS when they come and learn the prices.

BRYAN'S PLAIN TALK

Discusses Paramount Questions of the Democratic Platform.

EVILS OF REPUBLICAN POLICIES.

Rights of the People in United States and Acquired Territories-Dnngers of Imperialism and Militarism-The True Republic.

In response to the tender of the nom-Ination for the presidency by the notification committee of the democracy, at andianapolis, Wednesday, August 8, William J. Bryan said:

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Notineation Committee: I shall, at an early dsy, and in a more formal manner, accept the nomination which you tender, and I shall at that time discuss the various questions covered by the democratic platform. At may not be out of place, however, to bubmit a few observations at this time upon the general character of the contest before us, and upon the question which s declared to be of paramount importance

In this campaign.
When I say that the contest of 1900 is a contest between democracy on the one hand and plutocracy on the other, I do not mean to say that all our opponents have deliberately chosen to give to organized wealth predominating influence in the affairs of he government, but I do assert that on the important issues of the day the republican party is dominated by those influences which constantly tend to elevate pecuniary considerations and ignore human rights.

In 1859 Lincotn said that the republican party believed in the man and the dollar, but that in ease of conflict it believed in the man befors the dollar. This is the proper relation which should exist between is two. Man, the handlwork of God, omes first; money, the handlwork of man, s of inferior importance. Man is the mas-Rer, money the servant; but upon all im-portant questions to-day, republican legis-lation tends to make money the master

The maxim of Jefferson, "equal rights to all and special privileges to none," and the doctrine of Lincoln that this should be a government "of the people, by the people and for the people," are being disregarded and the instrumentalities of government are being used to advance the interests of those who are in a position to secure favors from the government.

The Desire of Democracy,

The democratic party is not making war upon the honest acquisition of wealth; it has no desire to discourage industry, economy and thrift. On the contrary, it gives to every citizen the greatest possible stim-ulus to honest toil, when it promises him protection in the enjoyment of the promeeds of his labor. Property rights are most secure when human rights are respected. Democracy strives for a civilization in which every member of society will share according to his merits.

No one has n right to expect from so-cicty more than a fair compensation for the service which he renders to society. If he secures more, it is at the expense of some one else. It is no injustice to him to prevent his doing injustice to another. To him who would, either through class legislation or in the absence of necessary legislation, trespass upon the rigits of another, the democratic party says: "Thou

Republienn Excuses.

Against us are arrayed a comparatively small, but politically and financially powerful, number who really profit by repub lican policies; but with them are associated a large number who, because of their at-tachment to their party name, are giving their support to doctrines antagonistic to tormer teachings of their own party Republicans who used to advocate bimetalism, now try to convince themselves that the gold standard is good; republicans who were formerly attached to the green-back are now seeking an excuse for giv-ing national banks control of the nation's paper money; republicans who used to boast that the republican party was paying off the national debt, are now looking for reasons to support a perpetual and in creasing debt; republicans who formerly abhorred a trust, now beguile themselves with the delusion that there are good trusts and bad trusts, while, in their minds, the line between the two is becoming more and more obscure; republicans who, in times past, congratulated the country upon the small expense of our standing army are now making light of the objections which are urged against a large increas In the permanent military establishment republicans who gioried in our independ ence when the nation was less powerful mow look with favor upon a foreign ailiance; republicans who three years ago condemned "forcible annexation" as imorai and even criminai, are now sure that it is both immoral and criminal to oppose furelble annexation. That partisan p has aiready blinded many to present dangers is certain; how large a portion of the republican party can be drawn over to the new policies remains to be seen For a time republican leaders were ed to deny to opponents the right to eriticise the Philippine policy of the ministration, but upon investigation they found that both Lincoln and Clay assert-bd and exercised the right to criticise a president during the progress of the Mex-1can war.

Instead of meeting the issue boldly and submitting a clear and positive pian for dealing with the Philippine question, the republican convention adopted a piatform the larger part of which was devoted to boasting and self-congratulation.

In attempting to press economic questions upon the country to the exclusion of those which invoive the very structure of our government, the republican leaders give new evidence of their abandon-ment of the earlier ideals of the party and of their complete subserviency to pecunlary considerations.

No Evasion.

But they shall not be permitted to evade the stupendous and far-reaching Issue whileh they have deliberately brought into the arena of politics. When the president, supported by a practically unanimous vote of the house and senate, entered upon a war with Spain for the purpose of aiding the struggling patriots of Cuba the country, without regard to party, applauded. Although the democrats recog-nized that the administration would necesmarily gain a political advantage from the conduct of a war which, in the very nature of the case, must soon end in a complete victory, they vied with the re-publicans in the support which they gave resident. When the war was the republican leaders began to to the president. auggest the propriety of a colonial policy opposition at once manifested itself. When the president finally laid before the senate a treaty which recognized the in-dependence of Cuba, but provided for the cession of the Philippine islands to the United States, the menace of imperialtsm became so apparent that many preferred to reject the treaty and risk the ills that might follow rather than take the chance of correcting the errors of the treaty by the independent action of this country.

Trust in the People.

I was among the number of those who believed it better to ratify the treaty and end the war, release the volunteera, remove the excuse for war expenditures, and then give to the Fllipinos the independence which might be forced from Spain by a new treaty. view of the criticism which my ac-

the Cubans. I supported this resolution and believe that its adoption prior to the breaking out of hostilities would have prevented bloodshed, and that its adopion at any subsequent time would have ended hostilities.

If the treaty had been rejected, considerable time would have necessarily chapsed before n new treaty could have been agreed upon and ratified, and during that time the question would have been agitating the public mind. If the Bacon resolution had been adopted by the senate and carried out by the president, either at the time of the ratification of the treaty or at any time afterwards, it would have taken the question of imperialism out of politics and left the American people free to deal with their domestic problems. But the resolution was defeated by the vote of the republican vice president, and from that time to this a republican congress has refused to take any action whatever in the matter.

Cowardly Accusations.

When hostilities broks out at Manila, republican speakers and republican edit-ors at once sought to lay the biame upon those who had delayed the ratification of those who had delayed the ratification of the treaty, and, during the progress of the war, the same republicans have sc-cused the opponents of imperialism of giv-ing encouragement to the Filipinos. This is a cowardiy evasion of responsibility. If it is right for the United States to hold the Philippine islands permanently and imitate European empires in the gov-and imitate European empires in the government of colonies, the republican party ought to state its position and defend it, but it must expect the subject races to protest against such a policy and to resist to the extent of their ability. The Filipinos do not need any encouragement from Amer-icans now living. Our whole history has heen an encouragement, not only to the Filipinos but to all who are denied a voice in their own government. If the republic-effect upon our own nation. Wu cannot repudiate the principle of self-govern-ment in the Philippines without weakening that principlu here.

Parniyzing Imperialism. Even now we are beginning to see the paralyzing influence of imperialism. Here-tofore, this nation has been prompt to express its sympathy with those who were ighting for civil liberty. While our sphere of activity has been limited to the western hemisphere, our sympathies have not been bounded by the seas. We have feit It due to ourselves and to thu world, as veli as to those who were struggling for the right to govern themselves, to prociaim the interest which our people have, rom the date of their own independence. felt in every contest between human rights and arbitrary power. Three-quarters of a century ago, when our nation was small, the struggles of Greece aroused our people, and Webster and Clay gave eloquent expression to the universal desire for Grecian independence. In 1896, all parties manifested a lively interest in the success of the Cubans, but now when a war is in progress in South Africa, which must result in the extension of the monarchial idea or in the triumph of a republic, the advocates of imperialism in this country dare not say a word in behalf of the Boers. Sympathy for the Boers does not arise from any unfriendliness toward England: the American people are not unfriendly toward the people of any nation. This sympathy is dus to the fact that, as stated in our platform, we believe in the principle of self-government and reject, as did our forefathers. the claims of monarchy. If this nation surrenders its belief in the universal appilication of the principles set forth in the declaration of independence, it will lose the prestige and influence which it has enjoyed among the nations as an exponent of popular government. Our opponents, conscious of the weakness of their cause, seek to confuse imperialism with expansion, and have even dared to claim Jefferson as a supporter of their policy. Jefferson spoke so freely and used language with such precision that no one can be ignorant of his views. On one occasion he declared: "If there be one principle more deeply rooted than any other in the mind of every American. it is that we should have nothing to do with conquest." And again he said: "Conia not in our principles; it is inconsistent with our government." Right Kind of Expansion.

tion aroused in some quariers I taks this cocasion to restate the reasons given at that time. I thought it safer to trust the American people to give independence to the Filipinos than to trust, the accomplishment of that purpose to diplomacy with an unfriendly nation. Lincoln embodied an argument to the question, when he asked: "Can aliens make treating easier than friends can make laws." I believe that we are now in n better postented between a government by consent, had the reaty been rejected. With the treaty been rejected. With the treaty hear responsibility for all that happens until the question is settled by American citizens, or adds to the problem of the problem

Increase in Regular Army.

Increase in Regular Army.

If we have an imperial policy we must have a large standing army as its netural and necessary complement. The spirit which will justify the foreible annexation of the Philippine islands will justify the seizure of other islands and the domination of other people, and with wars of conquest we can expect a certain, if not rapid, growth of our military establishment. That a large permanent increase in our regular army is intended by the republican leaders is not a mere matter of conjecture, but a matter of fact. In his message of December 5, 1899, this president asked for authority to increase the standing army to 100,000. In 1896 the army contained about 25,000 men. Within two years the president asked for four times that many, and a republican house of representatives complied with the request after the Spanish treaty had been signed and no country was at war with the United States. If such an army is demanded when an imperial policy is contemplated, but not openly avowed, what may be expected if the people encourage the republican party by indorsing its policy at the polls? A large standing army is not only a pecuniary burden to the people and, if accompanied by compulsory service, a constant source of irritation, but it is ever a menace to a republican form of government. The army is the personification of force, and militarism will inevitably change the ideals of the people and turn this thoughts of our young men from the arts of peace to the science of war. The government which relies for its defense upon its citizens is more likely to be just than one which has at call a large body of professional goldiers. A small standing army and a well equipped and well disciplined state militia are sufficient in ordinary times, and in an emergency the nation should in the future as in the past place its dependence upon the volunteers who come from all occupations at their country's call and return to productive labor when their services are no as in the past place its dependence upon the volunteers who come from all occupations at their country's call and return to productive labor when their services are no longer required—men who fight when the country needs fighters and work when the country needs workers.

Status of the Filipinos.

heen an encouragement, not only to the Filiphos but to all who are denied a voice in their own government. If the republican nas are prepared to censure all who have used language calculated to make the Filiphos hate foreign domination, let them condemn the speech of Parick Henry. When he uttered that passionate appent: "Give me liberty or give me death," when he uttered that passionate appent: "Give me liberty or give me death," when he uttered that passionate appent: "Give me liberty or give me death," he present a sentiment which still echoes in the hearts of men. Let them censure by Jefferson; of all the statesmen of history, mons have used words so offensive to those who would hold their fellows in political bondage. Let them censure Washington, who declared that the colonists must choose between liberty and slavery. Or, if the stature of limitations has run against the sins of Henry and Jefferson and Washington, let them censure Lincoin, whose Gettysburg speech will be quoted in dear forgotten.

Some man on, let them censure and conquest the sins of Henry and Jefferson and Washington, let them censure Lincoin, whose Gettysburg speech will be quoted in dear forgotten.

Some has said that a truth once as poken can never, be recalled. It is true, it to go on and on, and no one can set all the present advocates of force and conquest would still give the possible to obliterate every work when it and the present advocates of force and conquest would still give the possible to obliterate every work when it and the sprint without the present of the colonists. The problem of the republican part of the colonists of the present advocates of force and conquest would still give the possible to obliterate every work when it is used to be presented the principle set forth in the sprint without consent of the summon of the ferminal part of the colonists. The problem of the filiphos of the filiphos is the position of the republican part of the form of government and the present of the filiphos of the filiphos of the filip English duties? Did not the Spanish government promise to give to the Cubans the largest measure of self-government consistent with their welfare and Spanish duties? The whole difference between n monarchy and a republic muy he summed up in one sentence. In a monarchy the king gives to the people what he believes to be a good government; in a republic the people secure for themselves what they believe to be a good government. The republican party has accepted the European idea and planted itself upon the ground taken by George III. and by every ruler who distrusts the capacity of the people for self-government or denies them a voice in their own affairs.

The President's Will the Only Law The republican piatform promises that The republican platform promises that some measure of self-government is to be given to the Filipinos by law; but, even this pledge is not fulfilled. Nearly 16 months elapsed after the ratification of the treaty before the adjournment of congress last June, and yet no law was passed dealing with the Philippine situation. The will of the president has been the only law in the Philippine islands wherever the American authority extends. Why does the republican party hesitate to legislate upon the Philippine question? Because a law would disclose the radical departure from history and precedent contemplated upon the Philippine question? Because a law would disclose the radical departure from histery and precedent contemplated by those who control the republican party. The storm of protest which greeted the Porto Rican bill was an indication of what may be expected when the American people are brought face to face with legislation upon this subject. If the Porto Ricans, who welcome annexation, are to be denied the guarantees of our constitution, what is to be the lot of the Filipinos, who resisted our authority? If secret induences could compel a disregard of our plain duty toward friendly peopie, living near our shores, what treatment will those same tniluences provide for unfriendly people 7,000 miles away? If, in this country where the people have the right to vote, republican leaders dare not take the side of the people against the great monopolies which have grown up within the last few years, how can they be trusted to protect the Filiplnos from the corporations which are waiting to exploit the islands?

Is the sunlight of full citizenship to be invested by the people of the United States.

Filipinos from the corporations which are waiting to exploit the islands?

Is the sunlight of full citizenship to be enjoyed by the people of the United States, and the twilight of semi-citizenship endured by the people of Porto Rico, while the thick darkness of perpetual vassalage covers the Philippines? The Porto Rico tariff law asserts the doctrine that the operation of the constitution is confined to the 45 states. The democratic party disputes this doctrine and denounces it as repugnant to both the letter and spirit of our organic law. There is no place in our system of government for the deposit of arbitrary and irresponsible power. That the leaders of a great party should claim for any president or congress the right to treat millions of people as mere "possessions" and deal with them unrestrained by the constitution or the bill of rights shows how far we have already departed from the ancient landmarks, and indicates what may be expected if this nation deliberately enters upon a career of empire. The territorial form of government is temporary and preparatory, and the chief security a citizen of a territory has is found. The forcibie annexation of territory to be governed by arbitrary power differs as much from the acquisition of territory to be built up into states as a monarchy differs from a democracy. The democratic party does not oppose expansion, when expansion enlarges the area of the republic and incorporates land which can be political influence. This is the evil of the eclonial system, no matter by what nation it is applied.

Title to the Philippines.

What tse cur titls to the Philippine islands? Do we held them by treaty or by conquest? Did we buy them of did we take them? Did we purchase the peeple? If not, how did we secure titls to them? Were they thrown in with the land? Will the republicans say that inanimate earth has value, and when that earth is molded by the Divine hand and stamped with the likeness of the Creator it becomes n fixture and passes with the soil? If governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, it is impossible to secure title te people, either by force or by purchase. We could extinguish Spain's title by treaty, but if we hold title we must hold it by some method consistent with eur ideas of government. When we made allies of the Filipinos and armed them to fight against Spain, we disputed Spain's title. If we buy Spain's title, she could transfer no greater title than she had, and her title was based on force alone. We cannot defend such a title, but, as Spain gave us a quit claim deed, we can honorably turn the property over to the party in possession. Whether any American official gave the Filipinos formal assurance of independence is not material. There can be no doubt that we accepted and utilized the services of the Filipinos, and that when we did so we had full knowledge that they were fighting for their own independence, and I submit that history furnishes no example of turpitude baser than ours if we now substitute our yoke for the Spanish yoke.

Let us cunsider briefly the reasons which have been given in support of an imperialistic policy. Some say that it is our duty to bold the Philippine islands. But duty is not an argument; it is a conclusion. To ascertain what our duty is, in any emergency, we must apply well-settled and generally accepted principles. It is our duty to avoid killing a human being, no matter where the human being, no matter where the human being, no

Force Creates No Right.

Force Creates No Right.

Men may dare to do in crowds what they would not dare to do as individuals, but the moral character of an act is not determined by the number of those who join in it. Force can defend a right, but force has never yet ereated a right, If it was true, as declared in the resulutions of intervention, that the Cubans "are and of right ought to be free and independent" (language taken from the declaration of independence), it is equally true that the Filipinos "are and of right ought to be free and independent." The right of the Cubans to freedom was not hased upon their proximity to the United States, nor upon the race or races to which they belonged. Congress by a practically unanimous vote declared that the principles enunciated at l'hiladelphia in 17.6 were still alive and applicable to the Cubans.

Who will draw a line between the natural rights of the Cubans and the Filipinos? Who will any that the former has a right to liberty and that the batter has no rights which we are bound to respect? And, if the Filipinos "are and of right ought to be free and independent," what right have we to force our government upon them without their consent? Before uur duty can be ascertained, their rights must be determined, and when their rights are once determined, this as much our duty to respect those rights as the was the duty of Spain to respect the righta of the people of Cuba, or the duty of Engiand to respect the rights of the American colonists. Rights never conlict; duties never elash. Can it be our duty to kill those who, following the example of our forefathers, love liberty weil enough to fight for it?

Some poet has described the terror which overcame a soldier who, in the midst of battle, discovered that the head sixt he

to fight for it?

Some poet has described the terror which overcame a soldier who, in the midst of battle, discovered that he had slain his brother. It is written: "All ye are brethren." Let us hope for the coming of the day when human life—which, when once destroyed, cannot be restored—will be so sacred that it will never be taken except when necessary to punish a crime aiready committed, or to prevent a crime about to be committed.

If it is said that we have essumed before the world obligations which make it necessary

If it is said that we have essumed before the world obligations which make it necessary for us to permanently meintain a government in the Philippine Islands, I reply, first, that the highest obligation of this nation is to be true to itself. No obligation to any particular nation, or to all nations combined, can require the abandonment of our theory of government and the substitution of doctrines ageinst which our whole national life has been a protest. And, second, that our obligations to the Filipinos, who inhabit the islands, are greater than any obligations which we can owe to foreigners who have a temporary owe to foreigners who have a temporary residence in the Philippines or desire to ### trade therc. Capacity of Self-Government.

It is argued by some that the Filipinos are incapable of seif-government and that therefore we owe it to the world to take control of them. Admiral Dewey, in an official report to the navy department, declared the Filipinos more capable of self-government than the Cubans, and said that he based his opinion upon a knowledge of both races. But I will not rest the case upon the relative advancement of the Filipinos. Henry Clay, in defending the rights of the people of South America to self-government, said:

"It is the doctrine of thrones that man

America to self-government, said:
"It is the doctrine of thrones that man is too ignorant to govern himself. Their partisans assert his incapacity in reference to all nations; if they cannot command universal assent to the proposition, it is then remsnded to particular nations; and our pride and our presumption too and our pride and our presumption too often make converts of us. I contend that it is to arraign the disposition of Providence Himseif, to suppose that He has created beings incapable of governing themselves, and to be trampled on by kings. Self-government is the natural government of man."

ing themselves, and to be trampled on by kings. Self-government is the natural government of man."

Clay was right. There are degrees of proficiency in the art of self-government, but it is a reliection upon the Creator to say that He denied to any people the capacity of self-government. Once admit that some people are capable of self-government, and that others are not, and that the capable people have a right to seize upon and govern the incapable, and you make force—brute force—the only foundation of government and invite the reign of the despot. I am not willing to believe that an all-wise and an ali-loving God created the Filipinos, and then left them thousands of years helpless until the islands attracted the attention of European nations.

Republicans ask: "Shall we haul down the flag that floats over our dead in the Philippines?" The same question might have been asked when the American flag floated over Chapultepec and waved over the dead who fell there; but the tourist who visits the City of Mexico finds there a national cemetery owned by the United States and cared for by an American citizen. Our flag still floats over our dead, but when the treaty with Mexico was signed American authority withdrew to the Rio Grande, and I venture the opinion that during the last 50 years the people of Mexico have mads more progress under the stimulus of independence and self-government than they would have made under a carpet-bag government held in place by bayonets. The United States and Mexico, friendly republics, are each stronger and happier than they would have been had the former been cursed and the latter crushed by an imperialistic policy, disguised as "benevolent assimilation."

**Responsibility of the Nation.** icy, disguised as

Responsibility of the Nation. "Can we not govern colonies?" we are sked. The question is not what we can but what we ought to do. This nation cnn do whatever it desires to do, but it must accept responsibility for what it does. If the constitution stands in the way, the people can amend the constitution. I repeet, the nation can do whatever it desires to de, but it cannot avoid the natural and legitimate results of its own conduct. The young man upen reaching his majority can do what he pleases. It can disregard the teachings of his parents; he can trample upon all that he has been taught to consider sacred; he can disobey the laws of the state, the inws of society and the laws of God. He can stamp failure upon his life and make his very existence a curse to his fellow men, and he can bring his father and mother in serrow to the grave; but he cannot annui the sentence: "The wages of sin is deeth." And so with this notion. It is of age, and it can do what it pleases; it can spurn the traditions of the past; it can repudlate the principles upen which the nation rests; it can employ force instead of reason; it can substitute might for right; it can conquer weaker people; it can exploit their lands, appropriats their property end kill their people; but it cannot repeal the moral law or escape the punishment decreed for the violation of human rights.

"Would we tread in the paths of tyranny,
Nor reckon the tyrant's cost?
Who taketh another's liberty,
His freedom is also lost.
Would we win as the strong have ever wen,
Make ready to pay the debt,
For the God who reigned over Bebyion
Is the God who is reigning yet."

Is the God who is reigning yet."

Some ergue that American rule in the Philippine islands will result in the better education of the Filipinos. Be not deceived. If we expect to maintain a colonial policy we shall not tind it to our advantage to educate the people. The educated Filipinos are now in revolt against us, and the most ignoresnt ones have made the least resistance to our domination. If we are to govern them without their consent and give them no voice in determining the taxes which they must pay, we dare not educate them, lest they learn to read the declaration of independence and the constitution of the United States and mock us for our inconsistency.

The principal arguments, however, advanced by those who enter upon a defense of imperialism are:

First, That we must improve the present opportunity to become a world power and enter into international politics.

Second, That our commercial therests in the Philippine islands and in, the orient make it necessary for us to hold the tslands permanently.

Third, That the spread of the Christian religion will be facilitated by a colonial politicy.

Fourth, That there is no honorable re-policy.

Fourth, That there is no honorable re-treat from the position which the nation has taken.

The first argument is addressed to the nation's pride and the second to the nation's pocketbook. The third is intended for the church member and the fourth for the partisan.

Growth of a Principle.

Growth of a Principle.

It is a sufficient answer to the first argument to say that for more than a century this nation has been a world power. For ten deeades it has been the most potent influence in the world. Not only has it been a world power, but it has done more to affect the politics of the human race than all the other nations of the world combined. Because our deciaration of independence was promulgated, others have fought for it; because the patriots of 1776 fought for liberty others have fought for it; because our constitution was adopted, other constitutions have been adopted. The growth of the principle of self-government, planted on American soil, has been the overshadowing political fact of the nineteenth century. It has made this nation conspicuous among the nations and given it a placo in history such as no other nation has ever enjuyed. Nothing has been able to check the onward march of this idea. I am not willing that this nation saali cast aside the omnipotent weapon of truth to selze again the weapon of physical warfare. I would not exchange the glory of this republic for the giory of all the empires that have risen and fallen sincs time began.

The permanent chairman of the last repegan.

The permanent chairman of the last re-

The permanent chairman of the last republican national convention presented the pecuniary argument in ail its boidness, when he said:

"We make no hypocritical pretenses of being interested in the Philippines solely on account of others. While we regard the welfare of these people as a sacred trust, we regard the welfare of the American people first. We see our duty to ourselves as well as to others. We believe in trade expansion. By every legitimate means within the province of government and constitution, we mean to stimulate the expansion of our trade and open new markets."

This is the commercial argument. It is based upon the theory that war can be rightly waged for pecuniary advantage, and that it ts profitable to purchase trade by force and violence. Franklin denied both of these propositions. When trade by force and violence. Franklin de-nied both of these propositions. When Lord Howe asserted that the acts of par-itament, which brought on the revolution, were necessary to prsvent American trade from passing into foreign channels, Franklin renlied:

"To me it seems that neither the ob-taining nor retaining of any trade, how

"To me it seems that neither the obtaining nor retaining of any trade, how valuable seever, is an object for which men may justly spill each other's blood; that the true and sure means of extending nnd securing commerce are the goodness and cheapness of commodities, and that the profits of no trade can ever be equal to the expense of compelling it and holding it by ticets and armies. I consider this war against us, therefore, as sider this war against us, therefore, as both unjust and unwise."

both unjust and unwise."

I place the philosophy of Franklin against the sordid doctrine of those who would put n price upon the life of an American soldier and justify a war of conquest upon the ground that it will pay. The democratic party is in favor of the The democratic party is in favor of the expansion of trades. It would extend our

The democratic party is in favor of the expansion of trades. It would extend our trade by every legitimate and peaceful means; but it is not willing to make merchandise of human blood.

But a war of conquest is as unwise as it is unrighteous. A harbor and coaling station in the Philippines would answer every trads and military necessity and such a concession could have been secured at any time without difficulty.

It is not necessary to own people in order to trade with them. We carry on trade to-day with every part of the world, and our commerce has expanded mororapidity than the commerce of any European empire. We do not own Japan or China, but we trade with their people. We have not absorbed the republics of Central and South America, but we irade with them. It has not been necessary to have any political connections with Canada or the nations of Europe in order to trade with them. Trade cannot be permanently profitable unless it is voluntary. When trade is secured by force, the cost of securing it and retaining it must he taken out of the profits, and the profits are never large enough to cover the expense. Such a system would never be defended but for the fact that the expense is borne by all the people, while the profits are enjoyed by the few.

Evils of Imperialism.

Evtis of Imperialism,

Imperialism would be profitable to the army contractors; it would be profitable to the army contractors; it would be profitable to the shipowners, who would carry live acidiers to the Philippines and bring dead soldiers back; it would be profitable to those who would selze upon the franchises, and it would be profitable to the swhose salaries would be fixed here and paid over there; but to the farmer, to the laboring man and to the vast majority of those engeged in other occupations, it would bring expenditure without return and risk without reward.

Farmers and laboring men have, as a rule, small incomes, and, under systems which place the tax upon all consumption, pay more than their fair share of the expenses of government. Thus the very people who receive least beneilt from tmperialism will be injured most by the military burdens which accompany it.

In addition to the evils which he and the itary burdens which accompany it.

In addition to the eviis which he and the farmer share in common, the laboring man will be the first to suffer if oriental subjects seek work in the United States; the first to suffer if American capital leaves our shores to employ oriental labor in the Philippines to supply the trade of China and Japan; the first to suffer from the violence which the military spirit arouses, and the first to suffer when the methods of imperialism are applied to our own government. government.

It is not strange, therefere, that the labor organizations have been quick to note the approach of these dangers and prompt to protest against both militarism and imperialism.

The pecuniary argument, though more effective with certain classes, is not likely to be used so often or presented with so much emphasis as the religious argument, if what has been termed the "gunpowder care". If what has been termed the "gunpowder gospel" were urged against the Filipinos only, it would be a sufficient answer to say that a majority of the Filipinos are now members of one branch of the Christian church; but the principis tnvolved is one of much wifer application and chellenges serious consideration.

The religious argument varies in positiveness from a passive belief that Providence delivered the Filipinos into our hands, for their good and our glory, to the exuitation of the minister who said that we ought to "thrash the natives (Filipinos) until they understand who we are," and that "every huliet sent, every cannon shot and every flag waved means righteeusness."

No Gatling Gossip.

No Gatting Gossip.

We cannot approve of this doctrins in one place unless we are willing to apply it everywhere. If there is poison in the blood of the hand it will ultimately reach the heart. It is equally true that forcible Christianity, if planted under the American ising in the far-away orient, will scener or later be transplanted upon American sell. If true Christianity, consists the carrying out in our daily lives the teschings of Christ, who will say that we are commanded to civiltze with dynamite and proselyte with the sword? He who would decisre the Divine will must prove his authority either by Holy Writ or by evidence of a special dispensation. The command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature," has no Gatting gun attachment. When Jesus visited a villags of Samaria and the people refused to receive Ilim, some of the disciples suggested that the should be called down from Heaven to evenge the insuit; but the Master rebuked them, and said: "Ye kuow not what menner of spirit ye are of; for the Son of Man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them." Suppose He had said: "We will thrash them until they understand who we are," how different would have been the history of Christianity! Compare, if you will, the swaggering, bullying, brutal doctrine of imperialism with the Golden Rule and the commandment, "Thou shait love thy neighbor as thyself."

Love, not force, was the weapon of the Nazarene; sacrifice for others, not the ex-

the Golden Rule and the commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Love, not force, was the weapon of the Nazarene; sacrifice for others, not the exploits tion of them, was His method of reaching the human heart. A missionary recently told me that the stars and stripes oncs saved his life because his assailant recognized our flag as a flag that had no blood upon it. Let it be known that our missionaries are seeking souls instead of sovereignty; let it be known that instead of being the advance guard of conquering armies, they are going forth to help and to upift, having their loins girl about with truth and their feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of Peace, wearing the breastplate of righteeusness and carrying the sword of the Spirit; let it be known that they are the citizens of a nation which respects the rights of the citizens of other nations as carefully as it protects the rights of its own citizens, and the welcome given to our missionaries will he more cordial than the welcome extended to the missionaries of any other nation.

The argument, made by some, that it was unfortunats for the nation that it had anything to do with the Philippine islands, but that the naval victory at Manila made the permanent acquisition of those Islands necessary, is also unsound. We wen n victory at Santiago, hut that did not compel us to hold Cuba. The shedding of American blood in the Philippine islands does not make it imperative that we should retsin possession forever; American blood was shed at San Juan hill and El Caney, and yet the president has promised the Cubans independence. The fact that the American liag floats over Manilia does not compel us to exercise perpetual sovereignity over the islands; that flag waves over Havana to-day, but the president has promised to haul it down when the liag of the Cuban republic is ready to rise in its piace. Better a thousand times that our flag in the orient give way to a flag representing the idea of self-government than that the flag of this republic s

An Honornhie Solution. There is an ensy, honest, honorable solu-

There is an ensy, honest, honorable solution of the Philippine question. It is set forth in the democratic piatform and it is submitted with confidence to the American people. This plan I unreservedly indorse. If elected, I shall convene congress in extraordinary session as soon as I aminaugurated, and recommend an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose, iirst, to establish a stable form of government in the Philippine islands, just as we are now establishing a stable form of government in the tsland of Cubn; second, to give independence to the Filipinos, just as we have promised to give independence to the Cubans; third, to protect the Filipinos from outside interference while they work cut their destiny, just as we have protected the republics of Central and South America, and are, by the Monroe doctrine, pledged to protect Cuba. An European protectorate often results in the exploitation of the ward by the guardian. An American protectorate gives to the nation protected the ndvantage of our strength, without making it the victim of our greed. For three-quarters of a century the Monros doctrine has been a shield to neighboring republics and yet it has imposed no pecuniary burden upon us. After the Filipinos had aid-and yet it has imposed no pecuniary burden upon us. After the Filipinos had aided us in the war against Spain, wu could not inonorably turn them over to their former masters; we could not leave them to be the victims of the ambitious designs of the European nations, and since we do not desire to make them a part of us, or to hold them as subjects, we propose the only alternative, namely, to give them independence and guard them against molestation from without.

When our opponents are unable to defend their position by argument they fall back upon the assertion that it is destiny, and insist that we must submit to it, no matter how much it violates moral precepts and our principles of government. This is a complacent philosophy. It obliterates the distinction between right and wrong and makes individuals and nations the helpless victims of circumstances.

Destiny is the subterfuge of the invertebrate, who, lacking the courage to oppose error, seeks some plausible excuss for suppurting it. Washington said that the destiny of the republican form of government was deeply, if not finally, attaked on the experiment intrusted to the American people. How different Washington's definition. The republicans say that this nation is in the hands of destiny; Washington believed that not only the destiny of our own nation, but the destiny of the republican form of government throughout the world was intrusted to American hands. Washington was right. The destiny of this republic is in the hands of its own people, upon the auceess of the experiment here rests the hope of humanity. No exterior force can disturb this republic, and no foreign influence should be permitted to change its course. What the future has in store for this nation no ne has authority to declare, but each individual has his own idea of the nation's mission and he owes it to his country as well as to himself to contribute as best he may to the fulfillment of that mission.

Mr. Chairman, and Gentlemen of the committee: I can never fully discharge the debt of Behold a republic increasing in population, in wealth, in strength and in influence, solving the problems of civiltzation and hastening the coming of a universal brotherhood—a republic which shakes thrones and dissolves nristocracies by its client example and gives light and inspiration to those who sit in darkness. Behold a republic gradually but surely becoming the supreme moral factor in the world's progress and the accepted arbiter of the world's disputes—a republic whose history, like the path of the just, "is as the shining light that shineth more and more into the perfect day."

Women are Like

Flowers. Healthy and strong they blossom and bloom. Sickly, they wither and die. Every woman ought to look well and feel well. It's her right and duty, but she might as well try to put out a fire with oil as to be healthy and attractive with disease corroding the organs that make her a woman. Upon their health depends her health. there is inflammation or weakening drains or suffering at the monthly period, attend to it at once. Don't delay. You're one step nearer the grave every day you put it off. Women can stand a great deal, but they cannot live forever with disease dragging at the most delicate and vital organs in their body. You may have been deceived in so-called cures. We don't see how you could help it—there is so much worthless stuff on the market. But you won't be disappointed in Bradfield's Female Regulator. We believe it is the one medicine on earth for womanly ills. There is as much difference between it and other so-called remedies as there is between right and wrong. Bradfield's Female Regulator soothes the pain, stops the drains, promotes regularity, strengthens, purifies and cleanses. It does all this quickly and easily and naturally. It is for worgen alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. Bradfield's Regulator lies at hand. St p.r buttle at drug store.
